FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

BVS Clarifies Wi-Fi with Yellowjacket-B/A/N/G Analyzer & FREE Demo DVD at INTEROP

METUCHEN, New Jersey. – April 28, 2008 -- Berkeley Varitronics Systems of Metuchen, NJ today announced it will feature the Yellowjacket 802.11 b/a/n/g analyzer and the latest free demonstration DVD at the 2008 INTEROP Show, April 29th thru May 1st at Mandalay Bay, Las Vegas (booth# 2711).

Janet Jaracz (BVS' Southwestern Regional Sales Manager) will be showcasing the latest bundled system offering comprised of the Yellowjacket® 802.11b/a/n/g analyzer and Swarm™ mapping software. She will provide free demonstration DVD's for all interested attendees.

“Our customers continue to ask for an ‘All in One’ Wi-Fi solution and we are currently the only company that has delivered. Since our offering is unique, we have had to increase our production output to meet the growing demand for a more comprehensive WiFi tool set with features such as Multipath analysis, Signal to Noise Ratio and 802.11n analysis with full logging and reporting capability.”, says Scott Schober, BVS President and CEO.
